

THE CITY.

THE BIDDINGS ON THE McNAIRY property, by decree of the Chancery Court, will be closed to-day at 12 o'clock. See advertisement headed Special Notice.

THE weather yesterday was rainy and disagreeable. Drizzling showers coming down by frequent fits and starts. The streets were muddy, and some of the crossings almost impassable from the mire.

CHANGE OF TIME ON THE NASHVILLE & NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD.—On and after Thursday, Nov. 23, 1866, trains will arrive and depart as follows:

Express arrive at Nashville.....10 A. M.
Express leave Nashville.....10 A. M.
Accommodation leave Nashville.....5 P. M.

Persons proposing to attend the sale of lots at "Bocobol," on the Franklin pike, should, at 10 o'clock A. M., to-day, step into the free omnibuses at the door of Anderson, Johnson & Smith, and at the office of J. L. & R. W. Brown. A fine crowd, good cheer and good bargains will be the attractions offered.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—At a regular meeting of the Board of Health, held last evening, important reports were read by Dr. Compton, from the committee on epidemics, and Dr. Madden, from the committee on hygiene. The first was referred to the City Medical Society, and the second ordered to be addressed to the Committee on Water-works of the City Council.

A DOG CASE.—There was considerable excitement among a crowd of colored individuals yesterday at "Squire Wilkinson's." It seems that Budd Harrison, a negro of warlike propensities, had attacked a dog belonging to one of the neighbors and nearly killed the brute. The owner of the "dog" sued Budd for damages, and ten dollars and costs was awarded.

PEACE WARRANT CASE.—An individual named Dan, Casey, used out a peace warrant yesterday, before one of our city magistrates, against Caleb Harrison, representing that he was in peril of his life from the hands of the latter. The testimony failed to establish the charges, and Harrison was taxed simply with the costs in the case instead of being bound over.

ALL A MISTAKE.—Two men, strangers in the city, mutually recognized each other yesterday, and without asking names, spent the day very pleasantly as old friends. It turned out, in the course of a little conversation during the evening, that they had never seen or heard of each other before. The surprise of both parties may be imagined, and the long, prying looks into each others faces ought to have been pictured by such a pencil as that of Hogarth.

MR. B. F. PRITCHETT, of New York, Grand Sar for the United States, of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith, will deliver a free lecture this evening at Concordia Hall, on Jewish education, in connection with building a college for the education of Jewish youth. Members of the order, their friends and families, and all those who are interested in the subject, are invited to attend. The door will be open at 7 P. M., lecture to commence at 7 1/2 P. M.

SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT LICENSE.—Quite a number of tipping licenses expired on the 17th inst., and the police have already arrested a number who have failed to renew promptly. Yesterday a German named A. Ballenberger was arraigned on the charge of selling liquor after his license had expired. He was brought up before the police court and fined nine dollars for the offence. The police are on the alert now after those who violate any of the tipping laws.

ALLEGED THEFT OF A WATCH.—A negro, who has been waiting on R. Wilson Foster for some time past, was arrested yesterday by the independent detectives on the charge of having stolen a valuable gold watch from his employer. The other case of the watch was found hid in the wall of the house where the negro was boarding, arousing suspicions of the boy's honesty. Griffin, who is the negro's name, was brought before Squire Wilkinson yesterday, and sent to jail to await a trial this morning.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—AN IMPORTANT MEETING TO BE HELD TO-DAY.—The members of the Chamber of Commerce and such others as feel an interest in the matter meet to-day at 10 A. M., in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, for the purpose of taking into consideration the legality of the present three cents government tax on cotton. Efforts will be made to have the matter tested in the Supreme Court. The subject is one of great importance to the community at large, and a full attendance of business men is expected.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Monday a portion of the front wall of the old Banner office on Denderick street came toppling down upon the pavement, just barely missing a person who was passing at the time. Had the fragments fallen an instant sooner they must have inevitably stricken down the individual who, as it were, so narrowly escaped. We think the authorities should take some action in regard to insecure walls, as there are quite a number about town extremely dangerous. Accidents are liable at any time.

A NEGRO'S EXPERIENCE WITH A GUN.—HE GETS HIS HAND BLOWN OFF.—Last night about half past nine o'clock a negro who lives on Front street opposite the gas works, attempted to clean out a gas which had become foul. There were two loads in the barrel—a small single fowling-piece—and, failing to discharge the contents in the proper way, he thrust a red hot ramrod down the barrel as a last resort to get rid of the two extra charges. The hot iron ignited the powder in both loads with such force as to shatter the barrel of the piece, scattering the fragments about the room in great profusion. The right hand of the negro was torn into fragments, leaving nothing but a bloody stump.

MORE ABOUT THE SUPPOSED LEADER OF THE PAY TRAIN ROBBERY.—We mentioned yesterday the arrest of H. C. Bell alias Maj. J. C. Hines, upon the charge of having obtained ten dollars under false pretences from Capt. Stacy, proprietor of the Stacy House. After his arrest, as stated in yesterday's paper, a warrant was sworn out against him by W. M. Adams, who charges him with having been one of the parties who robbed the pay train of the Louisville Railroad, some time ago. The alleged proof in the case has not yet been made public, but is based upon the conduct and language of Bell previous to his arrest. Bell was yesterday brought before Squire Wilkinson, but the trial was postponed until next week, Tuesday. Meanwhile the Louisville Railroad Company have telegraphed to Louisville for some person who was on the pay train at the time of the robbery to come to Nashville and see if the person under arrest can be identified as one of the gang.

Upon Bell's person at the time of his arrest was found a number of papers from which it appears that he has been sailing under all sorts of names. One represents him as Capt. January, late of the C. S. A., another as R. M. Gillespie, and still another as G. W. Bell. Among other documents were several orders written in lead pencil, one on B. Scott for $47.50, another to Jno. Scott requesting the payment of five dollars, and still another for a small sum. The following letter was also found with other documents:

President or Superintendent Market Street Railway—I wish most respectfully to apply for a situation as conductor upon your street railway, and will be obliged for an early reply. Respectfully, G. W. Bell.

This is evidently not the first time that Bell has been in trouble, as the following petition, which, however, was descriptive of a single name, would seem to indicate:

To His Excellency, Jas. T. Brantley, Gov. of Kentucky: Your petitioners would respectfully represent that there is at present an "indigent" residing in Christian county against H. C. Bell, charging him with manslaughter. The facts connected with the killing were such as to justify a husband whose honor had been violated, and for these reasons we urge the intervention of the executive clemency. And your petitioners will ever pray, etc.

TENNESSEE BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—THE PANTOMIME.—The entertainment to be given at the New Theatre to-night in behalf of the fund for disabled soldiers, promises to be one of the most unique ever offered to the public. We learn that it is to combine a musical performance by some of the most accomplished amateurs, with a pantomime by amateurs. The characters of Nashville's musical talent is firmly established, and there can be no doubt that this portion of the entertainment will be in the highest style of the art. But the pantomime feature is something new for amateurs and will be, from all accounts, a most pleasing and agreeable performance. Those engaged have had some practice and have been in rehearsal some time. They are gentlemen and ladies well known in the city, and will acquit themselves with credit and afford pleasure to those who will spend the evening for the benefit of the maimed soldiers at the New Theatre.

The following is the programme:

PART I.
1. Quartette—"Come where my love lies dreaming."
2. Solo—"When the night," Serenade. Abt.
3. Piano Solo—Fantasie sur Bonnamant. Lerbach.
4. Solo—"Tacea la notte," Traviata. Verdi.
5. Solo—Wagner's Prelude.
6. Solo—Vocal.
Recitation—"The Conquered Banner."
PART II.
Pantomime in two acts, entitled "The Magic Trumpet."
CAST OF CHARACTERS.
Colin, in the employ of Beppo, and in love with his daughter—afterwards Harlequin.
Beppo, father of Columbine.
Toby, servant to Beppo; also in love with his daughter.
Fitzro, dandy gentleman, suitor to the hand of Columbine.
Columbo, servant of Fitzro.
Columbine, Beppo's daughter, in love with Colin.
Fanny, Colin's protegee.
Pierrot, Lure, Peasant, etc.

THE EFFECTS OF SPREEING.—An employee of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad named Thompson, came to town on Tuesday to draw his wages. Getting possession of a snug little pile of greenbacks, he of course felt on particular good terms with himself and concluded to do the fair thing and enjoy a few comfortable drinks. Unfortunately for Mr. Thompson, the liquor was too strong for his nerves were too weak, and as a consequence he very soon found himself in no enviable condition as to his ability to preambulate the street. The night wore on, and somewhere about the small hours, Thompson was set upon by two or three of those human hyenas, who make it a business to prey upon the exhausted, knocked down and robbed of every cent of money. The villains, not content with going through the pockets of the drunken man, bruised and manhandled him about the head and face in a frightful manner. The unfortunate man finally came under the notice of the police, who found him dead drunk lying upon the pavement. He was taken to the calaboose, and yesterday morning he was brought up before the Police Court, and in addition to all his other woes, was fined nine dollars. Enough for getting on a spree. The moral is palpable.

FAST DRIVING.—Maurice Brown is one of those individuals who believe in making good time through the world, come what may. On Tuesday he was captured, after having spurred up his rascals to perform almost unheard-of feats of speed along the harsh and cruel boulders of our rocky city. Endangering other peoples lives was nothing to Maurice in his mad career along the crowded streets and over the much frequented crossings. The wild career of the steely chaser rider was, however, suddenly ended by the intervention of a couple of stalwart policemen, who marched him off to headquarters. Yesterday morning he came up before Recorder Foster who called on him for the sum of fifty dollars and costs as the penalty for his rash conduct. He forked over the stamps and retired a wiser man.

Local Notes.
Six cars for the Church and Spring street railroad are being manufactured at the Nashville and Chattanooga car shops.
Several members of the Senate, in company with the Superintendent of the Nashville and Chattanooga and the Northwestern Railroad left for Johnsonville yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the great railroad bridge across the Tennessee in progress of construction at that point.

We understand that the Tennessee Colonial Immigration Company have received orders for five thousand Irish laborers, to be furnished as soon as possible.

Louisville has been visited by a perfect carnival of crime, but we are happy to state that here we have enjoyed almost entire immunity from great crimes for a long time past.

The streets yesterday were muddy and slippery in many localities, and we saw quite a number of laughable downfalls, very funny to lookers-on, but quite the reverse to the victims.

THANKSGIVING.—Thursday, next, the 29th inst., is the day set apart by the President for a general observance of this custom by all the States and Territories. The same day has been designated by the Governor of this State.

The custom, we believe, originated some eighty years ago in commemoration of the federal occupation of the city of New York, on the 25th November, 1783. From that time, until a year or two since, it has been customary for each State Executive to select and set apart a day, leaving it optional with the people, to observe the same or not. The day has been more rigidly observed in the New England States than anywhere else, famous for feasting and general rejoicing of the scattered households.

JACK MALONE, THE RACE STALLION.—The celebrated stallion, Jack Malone, the sire of Muggins and other famous race colts, arrived in this city yesterday. He was bred by Col. Guild, of Sumner county, who sold him to parties out of the State during the war, but has recently become the property of two well-known stock raisers of this vicinity. Jack Malone is by Lexington out of Gloriana, and is perhaps the best stallion among his famed sire's numerous male progeny. He is a magnificent formed animal, in the prime of life, (eight years old), and flushed with all the vigor and game of the stock from which he sprung. He will be retained in Tennessee, and is expected that he will do great things for the breed of horses in this State.

A FIRST CLASS FIRM.—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. McLaughlin, Butler & Co., wholesale grocers, published in this morning's Union and Dispatch. This well-known house offers fine inducements to those who wish to purchase No. 1 articles at reasonable prices. The firm have recently secured the services of Capt. Luke T. Armstrong, of Jackson county, Tennessee, who will be glad to see his old friends. Give them a call.

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY.—The Sons of Scotia, belonging to this Society, will celebrate St. Andrew's Day on the night of the 30th inst., at Ford's Saloon. The members are requested to meet at Henderson Brothers, on Cherry street, at 7 o'clock on Friday night. See advertisement.
